WELCOME

KAREN WEBB MOSS
BRITISH SWIMMING CHAIR

Warm greetings from us all at British Swimming.

We are delighted to welcome you to Sheffield for this Para Swimming World Series event, which doubles as our British Para-Swimming Meet. In total, 36 nations will be represented across four days of competition, and we are privileged to welcome athletes, staff and supporters from around the world.

As many of you will know, this event was held behind closed doors over the past two years, so it is great to see our family, friends and fans back in the stands, supporting our athletes and enjoying a world-class level of competition in the pool.

This meet is a crucial selection competition for those athletes looking to make the GB team that will compete at this year's Para Swimming World Championships, taking place in Manchester this summer.

Throughout this meet, we have the opportunity to watch some of our reigning Paralympic and world champions compete alongside some of the up-and-coming athletes breaking onto the scene – we saw some young stars enjoy fantastic competitions 12 months ago to earn their senior international debuts at the World Championships in Madeira, where our team went on to claim 38 medals – including 17 golds – break numerous world records and, among other successes, claim a first medal in a visually impaired relay in 20 years.

This competition forms part of our athletes' 2023 planning and target goals and, of course, keeps us moving forward towards qualifying periods for the Paris 2024 Paralympic Games cycle.

The best of British to our athletes! We hope you relish the challenge of international competition and know that we are right behind you and cheering you on.

Our thanks to our hosts, our friends at World Para Swimming, to the workforce and volunteers and to the outstanding support of The National Lottery, Lottery players, UK Sport, Speedo, Lebara, Healthspan and SOS.

Thank you.

CRAIG NICHOLSON
HEAD OF WORLD PARA SWIMMING

Great Britain is the third stop of this year's Citi Para Swimming World Series and it already a well-established competition having been involved since the inception of the Series. It has become a regular stop for athletes from across all continents to access high-level racing opportunities. It's great to see the competition back at Pond Forge, Sheffield this year. I am looking forward to seeing some exciting racing and new talent emerging ahead of the Manchester 2023 Para Swimming World Championships.

I wish all the athletes and teams the best of luck.

COUNCILLOR SIONED-MAIR RICHARDS
THE RIGHT WORSHIPFUL LORD
MAYOR OF SHEFFIELD

On behalf of Sheffield City Council and the people of Sheffield it gives me very great pleasure to welcome the Citi Para Swimming World Series inc. British Para-Swimming Meet to Ponds Forge from the 16-19 March 2023.

This Meet is huge for the competitors, and will play a vital role in the qualification process for the Para Swimming World Championships taking place in Manchester this August. Friends, family and spectators will be watching this fantastic and competitive international event and I wish all competitors the best of luck.

The City of Sheffield is fortunate to have part of the beautiful Peak District National Park within its boundary, it is a city of stunning landscapes; and is the greenest City in Europe. We have regeneration at the centre of everything we're doing, with a fabulous food and drink scene and the biggest theatre offer outside of London's west end. Built on seven hills, with five rivers and more parks and woodland than any other UK city, I hope that the competitors and visitors have the chance to experience what Sheffield has to offer.

I, alongside the rest of Sheffield will give you the warmest of welcomes, we are a friendly, inviting and diverse city and we love hosting these events here. We hope you enjoy your time in Sheffield, and leave with fond memories, not leaving it too soon until you visit us again.

WORLD SERIES KEY MEET AHEAD OF PARIS – DAVIES

As the athletes at the British Swimming Performance Centre, Manchester gear up for the Citi Para Swimming World Series Inc. British Para-Swimming Meet 2023, Performance Coach Aled Davies gave his thoughts on the squad, their preparations and the season beyond this week's competition...

Davies joined the Manchester Performance Centre from his role as Swim Wales' Lead Para-Swimming Coach last September, and he inherited a group of competitors who had played their part in a hugely successful summer for British Para-Swimming, across the World Championships in Madeira and a home Commonwealth Games in Birmingham.

Reflecting on his time at the Centre so far, Aled talks about his experiences in that time, and what he's learned in the role during the athletes' winter training block.

"I've thoroughly enjoyed it. I've learned an awful lot through that time, it's been a very steep learning curve with lots of problem solving and creative thinking, which is what I love to do. It's what I enjoy most about coaching and I'm absolutely loving the opportunity to do that on a more regular basis," he said.

Whilst Aled's main responsibility is the athletes who are based in Manchester, the World Class Programme para-swimmers are invited to hub weeks at the centre on a regular basis to use the facilities, get help from the world-class staff, and to link up with their national teammates. Speaking on those opportunities, and the environment it creates, he was keen to highlight the benefits of such a setup, particularly in the lead-up to such crucial competitions as the Citi Para Swimming World Series.

"It's absolutely lovely when we have the hub weeks and we have lots of people involved and lots of staff coming in. You get a real nice buzz and energy around the environment, the day-to-day athletes are an absolutely lovely bunch and they work really well together and all the staff coming in to assist that, either from afar or in person, just always adds a little bit of value to the environment in their own way and it makes it a pleasurable place to work."

As well as benefitting from working with the nationwide coaching staff group, Davies has joined a wider practitioner structure in Manchester, which allows British Para-Swimming athletes to access physiotherapists, biomechanists, psychological support, team doctors and more.

"It's an absolute game changer. The resources that we've got available are absolutely outstanding and the people that operate those resources are just incredible, world class people. The skill sets that we're able to utilise, it's just an absolute privilege to have these people working with us on a day-to-day basis," he added.

Aled Davies

Aled Davies and Ellie Challis

"I think that I've always coached in a quite an individual, specific way, but these resources allow you to answer some real difficult performance questions every day and it makes such a huge difference for the athletes involved and where we're able to find the optimal opportunities for them to perform."

Whilst it is understood that across all levels of the sport, both Olympic pathway and para, you have to have a certain level of athlete individualisation, the degree to which this is the case in para-swimming is something which Davies knows all too well, and he gave some insight into how this works on an elite level.

"Everybody has slightly different targets at this point of the season, and there are some different outcomes for each individual, so to take a generic approach in that scenario isn't the right thing to do. It's a very individually based programme and it tries to cater as best as it can for everyone involved and their needs at that moment in time, so it doesn't have many generic practices."

This week's Citi Para Swimming World Series Inc. British Para-Swimming Meet at Ponds Forge will serve as the sole selection meet for the upcoming Manchester 2023 Para Swimming World Championships.

Davies speaks about his group relishing the completed refurbishment of the venue ahead of the event, and how much he's looking forward to the occasion in the summer.

"It's conversations at this point about how it's going to look, work and operate, but even those conversations are exciting conversations, and they're inspirational conversations, and they really help to build a picture in your mind of what that arena will be like and it's just exciting to count down the days until we can get up there and get into the environment," he said.

"In terms of preparing for this competition and looking to Worlds beyond that, everybody's in a slightly different place with slightly different targets at this point of the season, and there are some different outcomes for each individual, so to take a generic approach in that scenario isn't the right thing to do. It's a very individually based programme and it tries to cater as best as it can for everyone involved and their needs at that moment in time, so it doesn't have many generic practices."

While the immediate focus is Sheffield and the World Series, Aled also took the time to look beyond the World Championships to the Paris 2024 Paralympic Games, and the philosophies he employs when coaching his athletes to reach their potential.

"There are a number of different goals moving forward, each with slightly different perspectives, and I think that the bottom line which underpins all of those goals and all those journeys that we're going to go on, are everyday trying to help everybody to be the best person that they can be in and out of the pool, and that's basically the principle that will underpin every decision that we make. "We ask ourselves, 'will the next thing that we do make this person a better person?', and if the answer is yes, we're going to go ahead and do it."

EXPLANATION OF CLASSIFICATION

To ensure there is no compromise in fair competition all Para sports have a system called classification in place. Classification aims to assure that success is determined by the following sporting factors that also determine success for able bodied athletes.

- Skill
- Fitness
- Power
- Endurance
- Tactical Ability
- Mental Focus

Classification within Para Swimming covers three impairment groups:

- Physical (S1-S10) – classification of a physical impairment involves assessing functional mobility
- Vision (S11-S13) – classification of a swimmer with a visual impairment involves assessing their level of visual acuity and visual field
- Intellectual (S14) – classification of a swimmer with an intellectual impairment involve assessing pattern recognition, sequencing, memory and reaction times

ELIGIBLE IMPAIRMENTS

In total, there are ten impairment types:

- Impaired muscle power
- Impaired passive range of movement
- Loss of limb or limb deficiency
- Leg-length difference
- Short stature
- Hypertonia
- Ataxia
- Athetosis
- Visual
- Intellectual

Swimmers are assigned relevant exception codes depending on their allocated classification (S1-S14). Also, upon being classified they are provided with an Athlete Classification Status to identify whether they are a new athlete (N), under review (R), have a fixed review date (FRD), confirmed (C) or Not Eligible (NE). The review (R) status is only used under international classification carried out by World Para Swimming.

SPORT CLASSES

Within swimming, the sport class names incorporate either the prefix “S” or “SB” which represent the strokes and a number which identifies the athlete’s relevant sport class.

The prefixes stand for the following:

- S: Freestyle, Butterfly and Backstroke events
- SB: Breaststroke
- SM: Individual Medley. The prefix ‘SM’ is an entry index and not a sport class. It is calculated as $(3 \times S + SB) / 4$ or for classes S1-4 who have a 3-discipline medley, the formula is $(2S + SB) / 3$ instead.
