

18th FINA World Championships 2019
Gwangju, South Korea
July 12th – 20th, 2019

The 18th FINA World Championships is a major competition of the year 2019 for British Diving. This is one of the Olympic Qualification Process phases. The Top x 3 synchro pairs and the Top x 12 individual divers will gain Olympic qualification places for their nations for the Tokyo Olympic Games. These are not individual qualifications, this is the nation place qualification.

The British National Championships – May 31st – June 2nd, 2019, Edinburgh – will be the main selection event for the World Championships 2019.

The winner of the Olympic individual events (3m springboard and 10m platform) will be selected, subject to achieving the Qualifying Standards and subject to NPD discretion.

The second place divers for individual events, synchronised couples and the pair for the team event will be selected by the NPD at his sole discretion.

The NPD will announce the team selected for the FINA World Championships-2019 within 3 working days from the conclusion of the British National Championships-2019.

Qualification Standards

The Qualification Standards below are taken and based on 2018 FINA World Cup results, using the Top x 12 score from the semi-final competitions, and the Top x 8 score from the final competitions and then rounded up according to the forecast score.

The minimum Qualification Standards required to be eligible for consideration for selection are:
